

Call for Papers on ERIS Webjournal 2/2013

ERIS WebJournal 2/2013 will be open for texts which focus on social work theory, research and/or practice in Europe. The articles may focus, for example, on:

- scientific research and systematic review of social work practices across Europe
- knowledge for developing social work with different target groups across Europe
- research reports on social work strategies and interventions
- reviews on books about social work across Europe

Please send your contribution to the ERIS webjournal editors before October, 2013. Please give special attention to the "Guidelines for submission of articles for the European Research Institute for Social Work \(ERIS\) web journal" (2/2013). The ERIS Web Journal Editorial Board will referee your article.

With best wishes
